DESCRIPTION:

AMINO-GLYCO KVIAR PF is a natural marine active ingredient combining pure Caviar extract and enriched with Glycosaminoglycans and Glycogen, both from marine origin, bringing efficacy, luxury, and sophistication together.

The Caviar extract is obtained from the roe of farmed Siberian Sturgeon (Acipenser Baerii) by a gentle, low temperature, enzyme extraction process without the use of solvents. The result is an excellent protein source rich in essential amino acids.

Caviar is a fully energetic product, highly appreciated for its components: proteins, minerals, and vitamins, resources to sustain the development and nutrition of the new embryo.

With aging, there is a progressive reduction of the hydrolipidic film, the skin loses its brightness and the epidermis becomes thinner. There is a decrease in fibroblast proliferation, associated with tissue rigidification linked to glycation and also a reduction in GAGs, involving a decrease in turgescence and skin tonicity and moisture.

However, topically applied, there are elements that can help to preserve skin against aging.

The proteins and nutritive elements contained in AMINO-GLYCO KVIAR PF will be used by the skin cells at its restoring processes.

Thanks to its important content in minerals and oligo-elements, the skin is supplied with precious ingredients key at its nutritious and regeneration processes.

PROPERTIES:

During aging, the oxidative metabolism increases and thus free radicals. The vitamins contained in AMINO-GLYCO KVIAR PF act as natural detoxifying systems.

The GAGs content strongly moisturizes the superficial layers of the skin and glycogen provides an energy source for the skin cells.

The skin is supplied with all nutritive elements needed, plus the energy necessary to process them, making regeneration processes more intense and effective.

The skin has with AMINO-GLYCO KVIAR PF a strong ally to fight against its aggressions; helping to restore all-natural elements needed for a luminous, soother and soften skin.

AMINO-GLYCO KVIAR PF is most indicated for the following cosmetic treatments:

- ✓ Rough and dried skins, lacking hydro-retaining substances.
- ✓ Stress and uncomfortable skins.
- ✓ Aged and prematurely aged skins. Treatments for face and neck areas.
- ✓ Protective products against environmental aggressions.
- ✓ Repairing and nutritive night formulations.
- ✓ Formulations for aged skins lacking elasticity.
